

Mission Awards

Meet the winners of the Seventeen Mission Awards and see what you can do to help them with their charities (or be inspired to start your own!).

Dallas Jessup

Did you know that one in four girls have been sexually assaulted? That's why three years ago Vancouver, WA, native Dallas, 17, who has a black belt in karate, decided to produce (and star in!) a 46-minute instructional video to teach girls personal safety awareness and street-fighting skills in case of an attack. You can download the video and learn how to defend yourself against assault and abduction at justyellfire.com.
